

AMIR, KAZAKHSTAN

TEXT

What have you been doing this week?

This week has been really productive because we are on summer break. I spent a lot of time reading books, learning English, and working out.

Do you often spend time in nature?

Yes, I do. Nature is the best place to relax and clear my mind. Also, running outside feels amazing, and I enjoy breathing the fresh air after sitting indoors for too long.

Is there a place in your region you think everyone should visit?

Definitely. If you ever visit Kazakhstan, you should see Aktau in the Caspian Sea. The water is beautiful and the cliffs near to the coast look like something from another world. There is also Bozzyra, which has incredible landscape. It's a perfect for people who loves nature and adventure.

Have you ever traveled to other parts of Kazakhstan?

Absolutely. I have been to Aktau, and it was a truly eye-opening experience. The combination of the deep blue sea, stunning white cliffs, and the seafood are amazing.

Do you think it is important to know about different parts of your own country?

Being knowledgeable about different regions makes you more culturally aware and broadens your worldview.

Is there anything you would like to say to kids in other countries?

Yes. Stay curious and keep learning. If you ever visit Kazakhstan, I think, I hope, you will enjoy our tradition, nature, and food. Keep learning and stay hard.
